

Editor's Message

Elizabeth Nelson

With this issue we welcome our new Assistant Editor, Cinthya Ippoliti. As director of the Auraria Library, Cinthya provides direct administrative leadership for library services, spaces, partnerships, and programming on the tri-institutional Auraria Campus which includes the University of Colorado, Denver; Metropolitan State University of Denver, and Community College of Denver and serves approximately 35,000 highly diverse students in an urban setting.

For LL&M, Cinthya's goals are to develop inclusive and equity-driven editorial processes, provide publication opportunities for authors from underrepresented groups and identities, and support authors in adding to the scholarship related to leadership and management. We are excited to have Cinthya join us as her background and experiences will be an asset to the journal.

I'd also like to extend a warm welcome to our new editorial board. This group will be advising the editors on editorial policies, journal content, and ways to continuously improve LL&M.

Mr. John H. Barnett
Dr. Sian Dorian Brannon

We are still in need of additional editorial board members, especially members from public, special, or school libraries. If you'd like to join us in shaping the future of LL&M, please email enelson@mchenry.edu.

I hope you enjoy Volume 36, Number 2 of Library Leadership & Management. Happy Reading!

Elizabeth Nelson (enelson@mchenry.edu) is Cataloging & Collection Development Librarian at McHenry County College.
